Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-15 and 31-36, drawn to an apparatus for aligning an edge of optical components, classified in class 385, subclass 52.
  - II. Claim 16-30, drawn to a method of smoothing facets on optical components, classified in class 385, subclass 147.
  - III. Claim 37-45, drawn to a system for holding a block of optical components, classified in class 385, subclass 136.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:
3. Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different modes of operation. Invention I has a base with an optical component positioning region and two alignment members for aligning an edge of optical components. Invention II is a method for smoothing one or more sides of a block of optical components. The alignment members of Invention I are not required for the smoothing of Invention II.
4. Inventions I and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different effects. Invention I has a base with an optical component positioning region and two alignment members for aligning an edge of optical components. Invention III is a method for forming a block of optical components using a bonding medium. The method of

Art Unit: 2874

Invention III does not require the alignment members of Invention I, while the apparatus of Invention I does not require the bonding medium of Invention III.

5. Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different effects. Invention II is a method for smoothing one or more sides of a block of optical components. Invention III is a method for forming a block of optical components using a bonding medium. The method of Invention III does not require the smoothing of Invention II, while the method of Invention II does not require the bonding medium of Invention III.

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. A telephone call was made to Travis Dodd on 13 February 2004 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Jerry T Rahll whose telephone number is (571) 272-2356. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F (8:00-5:30), with alternate Fridays off.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Rodney Bovernick can be reached on (571) 272-2344. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 703-872-9306.
